

Academic Writing

A Handbook for International Students
Second edition

Stephen Bailey

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

Contents

Introduction
Acknowledgements

vii
ix

Part 1: THE WRITING PROCESS
Student Introduction		1
1.1 Background to Writing	Writing Foundations	3
1.2 Avoiding Plagiarism		7
1.3 From Titles to Outlines		9
1.4 Evaluating Texts	Reading and Note-making	13
1.5 Understanding Purpose and Register		17
1.6 Selecting Key Points		21
1.7 Note-making		25
1.8 Paraphrasing		29
1.9 Summary Writing		32
1.10 Combining Sources		36
1.11 Planning Essays	Writing Stages	39
1.12 Organising Paragraphs		43
1.13 Organising the Main Body		48
1.14 Introductions		52
1.15 Conclusions		56
1.16 Rewriting and Proof-reading		60
Part 2: ELEMENTS OF WRITING
Student Introduction		65
2.1 Argument	This may be partly true, but. . .	67
2.2 Cause and Effect	Flooding results from heavy rain	70
2.3 Cohesion	The former. . ., while the latter. . .	73
2.4 Comparison	His work is more interesting than hers	75
2.5 Definitions	An assignment is a task given to students	79
2.6 Discussion	Benefits and drawbacks	82
2.7 Examples	Many departments, for instance medicine,	86
2.8 Generalisations	Computers are useful machines	89
2.9 Numbers	The figures in the report. . .	92
2.10 Opening Paragraphs	In recent years the internet has. . .	96
2.11 References and Quotations	As Donner (1997) pointed out. . .	99
2.12 Restatement and Repetition	In other words. . .	103
2.13 Style	Precise, semi-formal, impersonal and objective	105
2.14 Synonyms	Interpretation/explanation	109
2.15 Variation in Sentence Length	Long vs. short sentences	112
2.16 Visual Information	Graphs, charts and tables	114

Part 3: ACCURACY IN WRITING
Student Introduction		119
3.1 Abbreviations	i.e./WTO/nimby	121
3.2 Academic Vocabulary	subjective/objective	124
3.3 Adverbs	currently/eventually	127
3.4 Articles	a/an/the	130
3.5 Caution	Poor education tends to lead to crime	133
3.6 Confusing Pairs	affect/effect	136
3.7 Conjunctions	furthermore/however	138
3.8 Nationality Language	Denmark/Danish/Danes	142
3.9 Nouns and Adjectives	efficiency/efficient	144
3.10 Nouns – Countable and Uncountable	business/businesses	147
3.11 Nouns – Umbrella	field/concept/factor	150
3.12 Prefixes and Suffixes	undergraduate/graduation	152
3.13 Prepositions	The purpose of this paper. . .	155
3.14 Punctuation	“?”	158
3.15 Relative Pronouns	that/which/who	161
3.16 Singular or Plural?	the team is/are	164
3.17 Time Words and Phrases	Since the nineteenth century. . .	166
3.18 Verbs – Formality	speed up/accelerate	169
3.19 Verbs – Modal	may/could/should	172
3.20 Verbs – Passives	The gases were discovered. . .	175
3.21 Verbs and Prepositions	concentrate on	178
3.22 Verbs of Reference	Martins (1975) claimed that. . .	180
3.23 Verbs – Tenses	Few scientists dispute/have disputed. . .	182
Part 4: WRITING MODELS
Student Introduction		185
4.1 Formal Letters	Letter layout and letters of application	187
4.2 CVs	Layout and phrasing of a curriculum vitae	189
4.3 Reporting and Designing Surveys	Questionnaire design and survey reports	191
4.4 Taking Ideas from Sources	The note-making and paraphrasing process	194
4.5 Comparison Essay	A comparison of classroom learning with internet-based teaching	197
4.6 Discussion Essay	Education is the most important factor in national development – Discuss	199
Writing Tests		201
Answers		204
Sources		259